Plato's Apology of Socrates

Plato's Apology of Socrates How you, men of Athens, have been affected by my accusers, I do not know 17a For my part, even I nearly forgot myself because of them, so persuasively did they speak And yet they have said, so to speak, nothing true I wondered most at one of the many falsehoods

The Crito

Socrates, on every ground; take my advice and please don't be unreasonable! SOCRATES: My dear Crito, I appreciate your warm feelings very much—that is, assuming that they have some justification If not, the stronger they are, the harder they will be to deal with Very well, then, we must consider whether we ought to follow your advice or not

The Apology - University of Hawaii
